CARY NOT A SUICIDE,
FRIENDS TELL CORONER.

LONDON, May 11.—The inquest on the body of Howard Cary, of New Cleveland wonders, came in this afternoon to show the Highlanders at the American League Park what kind of ball they could play.

As this was the first of the games with the Western contingent of clubs, the audience was unusually large for a Friday. The fars were anxious to get a line on the Westerners, and as the Napoleons have the reputation of being the best of the bunch in the West, they served as a good barometer of what may be expected.

Among the visitors were many officers and men of the warships now in the port. The naval men were given seats of honor, and their uniforms added a picturesque effect to the grand stand.

Bill Phillips, from R. T. Wilson's stable, who won the initial rase, following the Metropolitan Handicap day melange, was worked alongside a diminutive pony before the scramble. What Bill did to the pony was a wonder, and he distinguished equally in the race proper. Getting off in front he hugged the rail all the way around and won easily. Ed. Ball, the warmly played favorite, looked a winner at one stage of the scramble, but he ran out at the stretch turn and lost too many lengths to make it up in the run home.
